SAM JONES' LAST SERMON.

End of the Greatest of all Revivals.

A Characteristic Sermon by Brother Jones on Sin.

The brother, looking weary and worn, took his text from the ninth verse of the third chapter of the first epistle general of John. "Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him; and he cannot sin because he is born of God."

"Somebody has said that nothing is settled until it is settled right. I believe that an intellectual christianity is the most beautiful and romantic thing in all the world. The finest type of christian life that I ever saw was a freehearted, benevolent, consecrated, devout woman in the Episcopal church. In the Episcopal church you find the best strain of cultured and equipped christian character to be found in the world. I know from personal knowledge and contact. I would not say that this applies to all the members of that church, nor even to a majority of them. But the Episcopal church is the best trained regiment in Christ's army. I haven't got anything against the Episcopal church. for it is the mother of the Methodist church. But the child has grown a heap bigger than the mother. We are under no obligations to her, either; we have paid her all we owe her. The finest type of Methodist is the most intelligent and the most thoroughly consecrated. God wants you to have religion in your hand, for with your hand you do; God wants you to have religion in your head, for with your brains you think; God wants you to have religion in your heart, for with your heart you feel. First, do something for God, next, think right and then feel right. God don't simply want you to feel, but to think and do. A drunkard takes another drink to help his feeling. When God bores through your head and from that down into your heart, and thence down into your pocketkook, then an artesian well of religion gushes up. It is not only to know and feel—"if ye know these things happy are ye if ye do them.' I am not preaching santification or holiness, but old fashioned religion, the best thing that God ever gave to man.

"A good many christians think they need a second blessing. If they do, it's a sign that the first blessing was a failure. I am not a disbeliever in santification; I believe in it. When I see a man with religion I never ask him how or where he got it. The thing is, when you've got it put it to some use and you will get some more.

"It is a moral impossibility for a true christian to sin, not a physical impossibility. If a man came to me and said, 'Jones, Spragins climed into your room over the transom and stole your watch,' I would say it is a lie or he is playing some prank on you and will have his laugh and return the watch. I would just know he didn't steal the watch, becanse it would be against his interest. 'He cannot sin.' The best way to do anything is to do it sensibly and to talk sensibly. Good nonsense is better than third-class sense. If a man is honest he connot steal; if he is sober he caunet get drunk; if he is truthful he cannot lie; and if he is a christain he cannot sin. Hear one of these fellows say 'once in grace always in grace.' You got no sense. That feller's on a switch with both ends taken up and no engine in sight. I don't believe it. You might as well say once honest, always honest. That ain't so, becase I stole a watermelon. It is just as sensible to say 'once in washing, always in washing.' Do you see the point? Now some of you fellows say Sam Jones at the end of the meeting is preaching Methodism. I ain't. I'm preaching sense.

"One time I met a fellow on the train who was half drunk. He said: 'Brother Jones, I'm one of your converts. I'm on my way to heaven.' 'Drunk and on your way to heaven?' 'Yes, once in grace always in grace.' Yes, he was elected, he was. He expected to straighten up before he died. He might on the theory of once in grace, always in grace go on in drunkenness and live always. He needn't die at all. You men don't say I'm sober when I'm drunk; and if you say you are truthful when you are a liar, you ain't got no sense, bud. You haven't got sense enough to come in out of the rain. I don't know whether you preachers agree with me or not. Don't know that what I say agrees with your theology. I don't believe in fellows bumfoozling people with theology and he'll get in the water over his head and drown. His head may be swimming for that's too light to sink. Just tie a couple of gourds to his feet and he'll float. If you are a sinner you are not a christian, and if you are a christian you will not sin. Do you hear that?

"Sometimes a fellow says 'Brother Jones, I can't live without sin.' Go to an experience meeting, and an old fellow will get up and talk about his besetting sin. Here. The minks bother my chickens and I set a steel trap and the next morning I find my pointer dog with his foot in it. I turn him loose and he hobbles off, a ciphering, putting down three and carrying one. The next morning I find my pointer dog in the trap again. What's the matter with you, Hero? 'Its my besetsing sin, its my misfortune to be caught here.' And some of you old devils get caught in the same saloon 365 days in the year. When a miserable old sinner was caught in meanness, he said: "Brethren, its my besetting sin. I can't help it.' And he will get caught in the same trap every day. I have no patience with him. Ain't you a dandy?'

"It makes me mad to hear an old fellow get up in church and say: 'Brethren, I've been overtaken in a fault.' Every time he gets drunk, he's been overtaken in a fault. You old lying rascal, the jug's got no legs. You run after it your self, and had to pull the cork out. You are an old liar. Hear one of these old sisters: 'Children, your mother is a poor sinner; stay at home and take care of the house, while mamma goes over the street to tattle.'

"When you get the purpose and desire to do right, you can do no sin. It is the motive that determines and not the conduct. Christianity is nothing but downwright loyalty to God. O, for downwright loyalty! Then the Lord don't have to keep an angel after you to keep you out of devilment. Idleness is the curse of the church. You preachers either don't furnish your members with enough work to do or they won't do it. An idle member of the church is the devil's saddle-horse, and the devil can ride him without saddle or bridle. If the devil alights the old thing will stand out in the middle of the street and wait for him an hour. Show me a man that is busy and he will have no time to serve the devil.

"Take an old sister boarding around. She don't do nothing. You see her gallanting the streets making the poor clerks pull down goods and cut samples. She's no 'count. Now, I didn't say you wasn't a nice old thing. When one of them dies the only way you know she's dead is that the clerks will miss a nuisance and the opera house will have a vacant chair. Sister, what are you living for, any way? Just to have your bangs set and a hat that outshines anything in the town. Some of you old sisters with plenty of this world's goods have got clothes piled up that you haven't worn for three years, and there are women and children in town almost naked. If you give 'em anything at all it will be an old dress that you have turned and frilled and made over three winters and then you cut the buttons off before you give it away. If you had to wear in heaven what you give away on earth you wouldn't go calling much, would you?

Wouldn't you cut a figure walking about in the New Jersalem with one of those old frocks with the buttons off—just pinned on?

"There's nothing like being busy for God. If you do nothing you are nothing. God don't want you for the way you cut your bangs. I've got nothing against bangs. I think they are becoming to mules and women. Busy for God! Preoccupation! Can't work for the devil because I'm too busy for God. If you are busy for God the devil's going to let you alone. He never stays where he's not wanted. He puts up with you because you treat him well. I do want to get where God will have confidence in me. A little preacher told me once: "Jones, I don't indorse everything you say, and I don't believe God will indorse it, but if I was him I'd stick to you because you fight so for him.' And I don't want you preachers to indorse me, but I do want you to stick to me. I never ask anybody to indorse me. I wouldn't indorse you. If anybody was to ask me if I indorsed you, Spragins, I'd tell 'em no, because I don't. Now look at the old sister get mad when I jump on Spragins. I don't know why it is unless he's so pretty.

"If we are christians let us show to the world that we are christians by leading blameless lives, and God will stand to us till the world burns."

A free offering was made for specific charities and the benediction pronounced.

Struck By a Train.

PLANO, Collin County, Tex., June 1.—The south bound passenger on the Central struck a white man, about four miles north of Plano this evening, who proved to be a hired hand named Jim Manley, living on Alex. Farrell's farm near Allen. When the pilot struck him, he was lying down on the right of way on a sharp curve with his head on the end of the crossties. The engineer whistled and stopped as soon as possible. The pilot struck his head making a bad scalp wound, also knocking him clear of the track. The train crew put him on a stretcher and brought him to Plano for treatment.

Mr. Thompson will begin to shipping melons from his 300 acre field on his return.—Sunny South Banner.

A Chinese Case.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 4.—United States District Judge Bellinger has served an order on Captain Mayes of the steamship Danube which brought 500 Chinese from Victoria, B. C., to this port, commanding they bring into court next Monday the number of Chinese whose certificates have not been passed upon by the recorder. A number of deputies will be required for this purpose. If any of the Chinese escape en route to the court room the captain is held liable to a heavy fine. He has appealed to the British ambassador for relief in the matter. Out of about 400 of the Danube's passengers already examined 200 have been rejected.

Mortgages.

Oh, yes; this is a wonderfully properous coun'ry—for about one man out of twenty. But we notice that sheriff's sales are the prevailing advertisements in country newspapers, all the same. One paper in Nebraska shows a seven-column page of solid nonpareil—nearly all foreclosures on mortgages. We hear a great deal nowadays about "satisfaction of mortgages," as the chap that holds the mortgage is generally the only one satisfied with the "satisfaction."—Chicago Express.

To Continue With The Government.

NEW YORK, June 4.—A correspondent at Caracas cables: The constitutional assembly has completed the draft of the new constitution for Venesuela. It authorizes Gen. Crespo to continue at the head of the provisional government until the presidential election to be held in the coming autumn, and also declares him eligible to then serve the succeeding constitutional term of four years.

The Columbian Guard.

What a nice thing it is to have a standing army at the Columbian Exposition, for it gives a lot of vain fellows a chance to strut around in uniform in mimicry of imperialism. They are of about as much use as a manikin, but a little more expensive. There are now at Jackson Park 1,868 men called the Columbian Guard. The rank and file are paid $60 per month, while the petty officers, such as the corporals, sergeants, and the like get $75. Add to that the pay of the higher officers and you reach a sum which will aggregate about $150,000 per month, and for the six month continuance of the fair will amount to nearly or quite a million dollars. It is a large sum to pay for the protection of an industrial show in a time of profound peace. They will go through the performance of arresting some very innocent people and insulting others in order to convince the public that they are a necessary evil.—People's Advocate.

Marie Nevins Blaine.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Mrs. Marie Nevins Blaine and Dr. W. S. Bull were married this morning in the South Reformed church, corner of Madison avenue and Thirty-eighth street, by Rev. Dr. Frederick Roderick Terry, pastor. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the Belmont. Only intimate friends and relatives were asked to attend, as it was the brides desire that the wedding be as quiet as possible. The wedding is a happy consummation of a romance begun when Mrs. Blaine was seriously ill three years ago. That she would be crippled for life was the verdict of the physicians who attended her. Dr. Bull, however, gave a more hopeful assurance and it is to his efficient skill that she owes her comparative good health to day. After a wedding trip in this country Dr and Mrs. Bull will sail for Europe.

THE question is not whether Chinese immigration should be encouraged. That has been settled in the negative. The question is whether the Geary law is right. A CANNON ball train on the Iron mountain railroad was wrecked at Leopole station, Mo., Monday and quite a number hurt, among the number being Miss Lizzie and Patrick O'Connell, of County Clare, Ireland, who were en route to McKinney, Texas, to visit relatives. THE fertilizing power of a great mind is wonderful: but as we travel farther from the sources it is hidden from us by the very abundance and productiveness it has caused. On Rising Ground.

"I'm afraid that third party ain't as dead as some of the boys said it was," said a Campbell county politician yesterday. "They are going to have a grand rally at Fairburn on the 6th of next month. They put me in mind of Jase Burr's mule that fell in the well. Jase saw that he wasn't killed but thought it would cost more to raise him out of the well than he was worth, so he decided to bury him right where he was. He hauled dirt for four days and poured it down on the mule. The mule shook it down and trod it down as fast as Jase poured it in, and at the end of the fourth day, when Jase had the old well hole filled with dirt, the mule stepped out from the top of the filling and walked off to the trough to get a drink of water. If we do not watch pretty close it is more than likely that when we get done burying the third party we may find it stepping on us as chipper and hungry and sassy as Jase' old mule."—Atlanta Constitution.

WE find on our table a copy of "Lucifer," published at Topeka, Kan., a bright and earnest advocate of reform, social and political, especially those relating to the advancment of women and her interests. The editor seems to have been persecuted under the law, why we cannot see as the object and aims (as set forth in said copy) of the paper appear to us as laudable and deserving of encouragement by all lovers of justice.

THE idea that Grover Cleveland and his political associates contemplated with approbation any change in our financial system is a wild idea. Grover is one of the fixed and reliable arches in the Wall street temple founded on a gold basis with paper currency for window shades and silver is made into spittoons. The day has passed and gone forever for the old moss back party to furnish a man to lead the hosts of American tillers and toilers, or to put in operation any plan that will be up to the advanced system determined on by the people. As certain as there was true philosophy in the words of Christ in relation to putting new wine in old bottles, so certain does that philosophy hold good today in relation to old party leaders being put to the front as in any way calculated to put new methods into operation to meet the expectation of a waiting, hoping and advancing people. — Western Critic, Carthage, Mo.

Something to Think of.

The recent panic in Wall street decreased the values in stock listed in the stock exchange over $700,000,000. This shrinkage fell upon those who had made real investments as well as those who had shared in the divisions of fictitious or watered stocks. To the first-class it meant financial destruction, to the second simply an evening up of the ledger balances. But the result upon other lines of business has also been disastrous as shown by the rapid increase of failures. Bradstreet says:

"The banks nowdays, in the lack of a settled financial policy, do not dare to give the necessary credits, and legitimate business is the sufferer. There are merchants to day who are perfectly solvent, whose assets far exceed their liabilities, who are being forced to the wall because they cannot get the ready money that they are entitled to by good business laws."

To such an extent is this true, that the failures in this country for the past five months exceed those of the calendar year 1892. England will continue to call in its loans, and gold will continue to flow from us. Under such conditions nothing but financial wrecks and business disasters seem to be in store for the American people. — National Watchman.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Gives Strength and Overcomes Rheumatism.

"There is nothing I have ever taken in my life that did me so much good as Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was in the Union army from '61 to '65; was confined in Andersonville prison eight months, and the diseases contracted there still linger. I had chills and fevers for years, and my doctor told me that I must take 40 grains of quinine a day for a long time. I did so, but after a time it did me no good, and then he ordered hop tea, which was as bitter as gall and made me sick. Rheumatism then caught me in my left leg and I could not move it. The doctor said

A ST. LOUIS paper in speaking of the legislators who voted for the infamous Russian treaty says:

"The Senators who voted for this infamy would have voted to arrest and surrender Cato. They would have sided with Gessler against William Tell. They would have assisted the English government in its attempt to capture and execute the traitors, Washington and Jefferson. Wherever placed they would have done all they could to make liberty odious."

HERE's a silver battery!

When demonetized, silver was worth more than gold standard for standard, and was quoted at a premium.

It was also decreasing in its production.

Not enough gold is produced on the whole globe to pay the gold required interest of one public debt.

Silver was destroyed to remove more non-debt money—and compel more to be borrowed to get its original issue or existence.

It was demonetized by British money, as now known by affidavits on file.

The bill that destroyed it was a blind woodchuck.

In 1 1-2 years thereafter the failures increased by more than double.—Ex.

More Trouble in Peru.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Semi-official reports continue to reach Washington from Peru indicating a threatening revolution in that country. A private letter received from Lima reports an extremely critical political situation and grave danger is apprehended of a revolution before the day of the presidential election. The unpopularity of the candidate for the presidency and the old controversy about the nitrate beds, which Chile assumed control of, at the close of the war with Peru, is given as the cause of the uneasiness. At the coming election it is to be by ballot whether Chile is to be paid a certain portion of the revenue obtained from these beds. The agitation of the question, it is said, has aroused much of the old war spirit and further complications between the two countries are feared. Nothing can be learned at the state department on the subject, but both the state and navy departments are manifesting intense interest in the departure for the Pacific coast of the United States Steamers Charleston and Philadelphia. It is probable that the Philadelphia will sail from New York on the 15th inst. for Callao.

World's Fair Power of Light.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 1.—The splended electricity building, the palace of the marvelous, was informally opened at the world's fair to-night for the first time. The entire building was lighted by the 456 arc and 15,000 incandescent lights, and the exibits were lighted up and in working order as far as practicable.

Two bands were in attendance, and the unique feature of the entertainment was the attempt to force light to dance to the music in the big light tower. This is a great column, 82 feet high, and contains 8000 red white and blue incandescent globes, which run spirally from plinth to cap. Surmounting all is a mammoth Edison lamp, which has a shade made of 3000 colored glasses, whose facets reflect and refract the rays.

The Minnesota building was formally opened to day by Governor Knute Nelson, and Kentucky celebrated by dedicating the state building and unveiling its Daniel Boone statute. The Californian building also threw open its doors.

SIX UNMASKED ROBBERS

Did the Bold, Desperate Bentonville Bank Work.

PARIS, Tex., June 6.—Conductor Buell of the Frsco, who arrived in the city this morning, brings news confirming the daring bank robbery which took place at Bentonville, Ark., at 11 a. m. yesterday.

At that hour six men rode quietly into the town from the south and hitched their horses at the back of one of the main business blocks, in which the bank was located. One of the men was left in charge of the horses and the others walked quietly up the alley on the west side of the block. All had winchesters.

At the corner one man stopped. Half way down the block another stopped. Three went on the northwest corner to the bank. One stood outside and two entered.

As the two men went in a Mr. Stone, a merchant, who had been to the bank on business, came out. He took in the situation at a glance and hastened to his store, and procuring a shotgun, came out. As he did so he was shot dead.

Then the robbers began a regular fusilade, firing at everybody who came in sight. People were paralyzed at the suddenness of the attack, and before they could realize what was going on the daring freebooters had ended their work, mounted their horses and were leisurely riding out of town.

They had secured $15,000.

As soon as possible the sheriff organized a posse of forty men and started in pursuit. The robbers made straight for the Cherokee nation, the line of which is twenty miles west of Bentonville.

None of them wore masks and all seemed as calm and self possessed as if they were doing nothing unusual.

At dark last night they were near the Cherokee line with the sheriff and posse only about a mile behind. Both parties were straining every nerve, but the sheriff was gradually gaining on them.

The robbers were evidently making for the mountain fastnesses of the Cherokee nation, with whose haunts they are doubtless familiar. It is believed that they are the notorious territory gang who were thought to be preparing to rob the Missouri, Kansas & Texas at Pryor's creek a few nights ago.

THE CHEROKEE STRIP.

It Will Probably Be Thrown Open to Settlement by September.

Secretary Hoke Smith expect that the Cherokee strip will be thrown open to settlement by September 15. The strip has been finally acquired by the government and only a few details remain to be arranged.

Secretary Hoke Smith, on behalf of the United States, and Chief C. J. Harris, Treasurer E. E. Starr, D. W. Lipe, and J. T. Cunningham, the authorized representatives of the Cherokee nation, yesterday afternoon in the presence of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, signed the contract, which is the final step in the proceedings by which the United States becomes the owner of the Cherokee strip.

The number of acres ceded is 6,022,654, and the price to be paid for the same is $8,595,736. Of this amount $295,736 is to be paid in cash, and the balance in five equal annual installments commencing March 4, 1895, and ending March 4, 1899, said deferred payments bearing 4 per cent. annual interest. The sum of $250,000 of the amount to be paid in cash is held by the Cherokees to pay for the improvements of intruders on the territory of Cherokee nation proper, the value of which is to be appraised by a board to be appointed by the President. The sum of $1,660,000, the amount of the first annual installment, is to be retained by the government to pay the Delawares, Shawnees, and freedmen for any amount they may recover in the courts on their claim for participation in the proceeds of the grazing privileges thereon received by the Cherokee nation.

THE DEATH OF ABEL.

Arabian Legends Fix To-day as the Anniversary.

Fond man! The vision of a moment made! Dream of a dream! And shadow of a shade!—[Young.]

LONDON, June 3.—According to the Arabian legends, to-day is the anniversary of the death of Abel, and advices from Jedda say that in accordance with ancient practice, the doors of the tomb of Eve will be thrown open. Usually 500 visitors from abroad visit Jedda for this occasion, but this year the number is nearly 5,000. The temple over the alleged tomb has a palm tree growing out of a crack in the roof. The alleged grave is some 250 feet in length, having probably been made to fit the Ismaelitish belief that the first woman was 200 feet in height.

A Novel Scheme.

HARTWELL, Ga., May 30.—A gentleman who lives at Anderson, S. C., purchased a sewing machine from Mr. C. A. Reed one day last week and paid for it entirely in dimes. In doing so he related the following incident: Six years ago he said, he had such an appetite for whiskey that he couldn't come to town without getting drunk. He concluded to try a scheme, and every time he felt like taking a drink he put a dime in a little pouch that he carried for that purpose. As he saw the number of dimes in his pouch increase, his appetite for stimulants decreased. He furthermore stated that in addition to saving enough dimes to buy his wife a sewing machine, his sober life had enabled him to attend to his business to such advantage that he had purchased a tract of land for $450, all of which has been paid except $100.

Indian Reservation Money.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The claim of the Chocktaw and Chickasaw Indians for their lands in the Arapahoe and Cheyenne reservations is finally settled in the manner suggested to the News several days ago. The tribes get warrants on the subtreasury at St. Louis and the rest, something over $600,000, is reserved as payment to Robert L. Owens of the Indian Territory, who had an agreement with the tribes to collect the money for twenty per cent of it. The protest against its payment by J. Changing Diseases.

In that delightful book, "Ridder Grange," the husband of Pomona gives as his reason for not removing from a malarial neighborhood, that it don't do for a man at his time of life to go about changing his diseases and adding, that there are diseases incident to almost every locality, and he likes a disease he is used to.

Now, in case of malarial diseases, aside from the unwillingness of patients to "change diseases," it is generally not convenient to change their residences. If this were done in every case, some of our most thriving communities would be depopulated.

Nothing is left to do therefore but to fortify oneself against malarial influences. For this purpose Drs. Starkey & Palen's Compound Oxygen has proved itself in the past 23 years the most efficient thing in the world.

News From F. C. Thompson, Editor of The Democrat.

We are indebted to the Publishers Guide for the following information of F. C. Thompson, editor of THE DEMOCRAT:

I'M FROM M'KINNEY, SEE!

F. C. Thompson of McKinney DEMOCRAT was wandering down State street gazing at the Masonic temple when a bootblack shouted "Shine, boss." Well, I guess I do, you young scrub. I'm from McKinney, Collin county, TEXAS; and if you don't gimme back my pure gold badge what I got in Dallas, you bandy-legged skunk, I will run this brush clean through you!

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Chase county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of May, while in Des Moines en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhœa. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy for the past seventeen years, and knowing its reliability, he procured a 25 cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet incident to traveling often produce a diarrhœa. Every one should procure a bottle of this Remedy before leaving home. For sale by R. E. Bristol.

The Van Alstyne News prints an account of a dance that rivals that lately indulged in near Corpus Christi:

Eleven of Denver's young men danced seventeen hours and thirty minutes, and only stopped when the humane society interfered and policemen forced the contestants to desist. Thirteen couples originally started, but two of the young men fainted after having danced continuously for over sixteen hours. The remaining eleven were in very bad condition when the police interfered.

Religious Wave at Plano.

PLANO, Texas., June 6.—Rev. Mr. Burnet, an evangelist, aided by the local pastors, is holding a revival at the Methodist church. Great interest is being manifested. All places of business, including saloons, have agreed to close for morning services during the meeting. This morning the town had a Sabbath day appearance. The only exception was one saloon, which kept open house while the other five saloons kept closed doors, some of the proprietors attending the meeting.

I am a little boy fourteen years old and thought I would give you a few dots if you would allow me space in your dear old paper. It is always a welcome visitor to us.

Health is very good at present.

We had Sunday school at 9 o'clock and preching at 11 o'clock last Sunday by Parson Rollins. He is a young Baptist preacher. His discourse was on the operation of the Divine spirit. He said in his talk there was no such thing now as the holy ghost, but the spirit connected those that believe on Jesus through him to God, the father. He had a good large congregation to hear him,

This is the first time I ever tried to write to the editor. I hope it won't find its way to the waste basket.

A Collision.

DENISON, Tex., June 5.—A disastrous collision occurred at the crossing of the Houston & Texas Central and Missouri, Kansas & Texas in this city this morning B Central engine with three cars had backed into the "Y." The brake on a flat car was set and the engineer run down to clear the switch. The brake was defective and the car broke loose, striking the cab, knocking it off its casting and breaking the valve and all—allowing the steam to escape. In the mean time, a Katy engine with a train of freight cars had whistled for the crossing and the watchman gave the signal to come on. The Katy engineer saw the runaway coming and shut off steam and jumped with his fireman. The engineer of the Central engine reversed, but the escaping steam drove both he and his fireman from the engine. The Central engine struck the Katy engine, one was thrown down the embankment and the other on her side, while the cars were badly wrecked. John Shaw, the switchman was severely scalded by escaping steam and had to be carried to his home. Both tracks were clear by noon.

Mills Calls on Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—This evening at 3 o'clock Senator Mills, by appointment, called on Mr. Cleveland. The president yesterday requested Mr. Mills to call on him at that time. The senator has an appointment with Secretary Carlisle to-morrow. These two appointments would indicate that something may occur in the matter of changes of officers in Texas. Mr. Mills stated to your correspondent that among the great number of men seeking the collectorship of internal revenue in the fourth district they are nearly all his friends and he will not fight for one against the others. He will, without doubt, be consulted about that particular office and about the collectorship of customs at Galveston. He is for Mr. Finley, as he always has been, and it would seem that his presence here must be favorable to the candidacy of his man.

Mr. Mills say he has not been well for some time; he is troubled with insomnia and intends to go to Capon springs for relief. He did not bring his family with him.

An old lady away back in the thirties owned a cabin near the boundary between North Carolina and Virginia, but she always considered herself a resident of the former state. Valuable Information.

San Antonio, Tex.—Believing it might be interesting to the readers of Texas Farmer to learn something about the origin of our cereals, fruits, flowers and vegetables, I have compiled a short account of the matter. Horses, mules, cows, hogs, sheep and goats were unknown in America until they were introduced by immigrants from Europe. The increase within 400 years, considering the number that have been slaughtered for food—the number that has perished from disease, old age, or by accident— is so great as almost to stagger belief. The general opinion among those who have most thoroughly investigated the subject is that all our domesticated animals were indigenous to Asia and naturalized in all other countries. The Arabians who conquered Spain introduced Arabian horses into that country. They also introduced a fine breed of asses. Gen. George Washington imported from Spain the first ass ever introduced into the United States. Wheat, oats, rye, barley, millet, flax, rice and sugar-cane were of Asiatic origin. Apples pears, peaches, apricots, damsons, the choicest species of plums, cherries, figs, raspberries, currants and gooseberries were introduced into America from Europe. Sweet oranges were also brought from Europe. The sour oranges were indigenous to America.

All the roses grown in our gardens were brought from Europe. The rose of Europe originally bloomed out once a year but being crossed with the Chinese rose, which bloomed nearly all the year round, it was made to bloom monthly. Cabbages, turnips, beets, parsnips, carrots, celery, sage, parsley, onions, leeks, radishes, beans, peas of all descriptions, and lettuce were brought to America from Europe. Watermelons muskmelons, cucumbers, pumpkins, squash and gourds were introduced into America from Europe. Coffee was introduced into this country from Asia. So also was cotton. The grapes used principally in wine-making in America were brought over from Europe.

The Irish potato, maize or Indian corn, tobacco and tomatoes were unknown prior to the discovery of America. Sir Walter Raleigh carried potatoes to England and planted them in his garden. Eventually he introduced them into Ireland. The soil of Ireland being rich and loamy, and the climate being well suited to them, potatoes succeeded admirably and yielded large crops. The potatoes grown in Ireland excelled all others so much that, in process of time, they came to be called Irish potatoes. Some twenty years past I was called upon to decide a bet between two of my friends in New Orleans as to the origin of the Irish potato. One of my friends bet that they were originally found in Ireland, and in proof of that fact cited the name given to them, while the other bet they were first found in America. Perhaps there are hundreds of persons who have fallen into the same error by being misled by the potato being called the Irish potato.

It is rather a singular circumstance that a tuber indigenous to America should be universally called Irish potato. All our fowls--chickens, ducks, peafowls, guinea chichens—were brought to America from the Old World. The guinea chicken is of African origin.

The turkey is a native of America, and was unknown to the old world before the discovery of America. All the domesticated turkeys were derived from the ordinary wild turkey of America. Care, attention and plentiful feeding have improved the breed of our domesticated turkeys and materially changed and varied the color of their plumage. About 1840, at a splendid banquet given at Richmond, Va., to some distinguished public man Mr. Thomas Richie of the Enquirer and subsequently of the Washington Union, delivered a post prandial speech in which he said, "Lucullus, the greatest epicure in Rome, whose dinners and suppers frequently cost a small fortune, had, with all his weath, luxury and skilled cooks, never regaled his friends with such fat, juicy and delicious turkeys as they had feasted upon to-day." The newspapers joked him for years about his mistake in saying turkeys were known in Europe prior to the discovery of America.

Cabbages were unknown even in Scotland until the time of Cromwell, when the English soldiers, whom he stationed in Scotland for the purpose of holding the turbulent and warlike Scotch clans in subjection, sowed cabbage seed and introduced its cultivation.

A Long Time Between Drinks.

Washington, D. C. May, 28. —Samuel Blackwell, of Alabama, the newly appointed third auditor of the Treasury, is an instance of what a genuine man can do in the way of shaking off a dangerous habit when he makes up his mind for a long, but winning fight. He returned to Selma, says "The Post," at the close of the war, a young and very attractive fellow of a strong social disposition, and promptly fell in love with one of belles of a town that is noted for its beautiful women. The affection was mutual, but Blackwell, like so many other youngsters in the rank, had acquired a thirst which he proceeded to slake when the humor seized him.

The lady of his heart finally told him that she would marry him, but upon one condition only. "What is that?" he asked.

"That you will not drink a drop of intoxicating liquor for 10 years."

"That is a long time between drinks." said he.

"I know it is," she said, "but——."

"Will you wait that long?" he inquired.

She replied that she would. He responded "All right," and went out.

They were faithful during the decade of his probation. At the end of the time they were married. Mr. Blackwell has rigorously refrained ever since the day when he set his hat squarely on his head, and walked out of his sweetheart's parlor.

They have one of the happiest homes in the country, and three handsome sons, one of whom is named Sargeant S. Prentiss, and another John Griffin Carlisle, a fact, by the way, with which the Secretary was not acquainted until after the appointed.

One's Future Wife Named.

He was a chatty kind of a conjurer, and was anxious to open the evenings entertainment merrily. So he stepped forward to the front of the stage and said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, if there is in this audience any young man who would like to know the name of his future wife, if that young man will kindly step up, I will undertake to tell him, and this is no guessing competition. Now, will any single young man kindly stand up?"

Up jumped a young man in the center of the room.

"Thank you," said the conjurer. "Now do you wish to know the name of your future wife?"

"I do," said the young man.

"Well," said the man of magic, "I always like to do things in a proper business fashion; will you kindly give me your name?"

"Yes, certainly," said the young man; "my name is Jackson."

"Thank you," replied the conjurer; "then the name of your feture wife will be Mrs. Jackson."—Ex.

The Heavy Outflow of Gold.

[New York Herald June 1.]

Nearly $3,000,000 of gold will leave this port for England to-day, bringing the shipments for the week, thus far, up to $5,000,000, and a further round amount will go out on Saturday.

As very nearly all of this comes out of the treasury, the free gold at the disposal of the government will at the end of this week be reduced to about $90,000,000. When the $100,000,000 reserve was first trenched upon, some week ago, there was tumult, but the heavy drafts now being made upon it attract but little attention.

The present very heavy efflux of the precious metal does not appear to be due to any special inducements offered abroad, but rather to an almost unprecedented scarcity of commercial bills, the comparative stringency of money abroad and the foreign distrust of our currency caused by the operation of the Sherman law. It must be confessed that the immediate outlook is by no means assuring. Continued suspensions of small banks and business houses in the west and south are inevitable, and we shall be fortunate indeed if we escape serious mercantile failures nearer home.

It is encouraging, however, to know that all the important banks are sound, and that general trade is not inflated. Moreover, the American people adapt themselves with wonderful rapidity to changed conditions, and it is evident that they have already begun to deal in a practical way with the existing situation. When the present period of stress set in there was a universal disposition to look for relief to the great banking centers; but it is apparent that individuals and separate communities are now striving to liquidate themselves. Men are bowing to the inevitable, and striving at any cost to get themselves out of debt.

J. M. Pyle, a Kaufman county farmer living near Stubbs, brought to Terrell 400 chickens and sold them. The purchaser has 1500 cooped and will ship a carload to Chicago next week. —Texas Farmer.

Nearly 5,000 American inventors have taken out patents for new devices in car couplers.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

The Ohio Chemical Co.:

Dear Sir:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.

B. M. Jaylord, Leslie, Mich.

Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.

The Ohio Chemical Co.:—Gentlemen:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.

Truly yours, Mathew Johnson, P. O. Box 45. Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Ohio Chemical Co.:—Gentlemen:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four month before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,

Mrs. Helen Morrison. Cincinnati, Ohio.

The Ohio Chemical Co:—Gentlemen:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part. W. L. Lotegay.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE COLORADO LAKE CHAUTAUQUA.

The Colorado Lake Chautauqua Association (an organization existing under and by virtue of the laws of Texas) takes pleasure in announcing the following as coming within the perview of its aims and purposes:

First. "To promote the habits of systematic reading and study in nature, art, science, history, secular and sacred literature, in connection with the routine of daily life; to give college graduates a view of the college course; to secure for those whose educational privileges have been limited, the college student's general outlook upon the world and life, and to encourage close, connected, and persistent thinking."

Second. To provide ways and means of furnishing to the teachers of Texas, at the latest practicable cost, facilities for improving themselves in the science and art of teaching, as well as for acquiring a deeper and more thorough knowledge of the subjects embraced in the common school curriculum.

Third. To provide, at moderate cost, for all classes of our people—the lawyer, the physician, the merchant— suitable place and a periodical opportunity for unsurpassed physical recreation, and for mental, moral and spiritual elevation and improvement.

To carry out these purposes the Association has purchased one of the most eligible pieces of property to be found between the dam and the head of the lake navigation. It comprises about 1200 acres of land situated two and one-half miles above the dam, as the crow flies, or six miles by water, on the south bank of the Colorado river, on which has a frontage of three and one-half miles. The conformation of the land and the nature of the soil are such as to give it a drainage that is well nigh perfect. After the hardest rains, the surplus water at once passes down gentle declivities into the Colorado or one of the small tributaries. For this reason the property is remarkably free from that trio of pests, mud, malaria and mosquitoes.

Among other advantages characteristic of this property may be mentioned its easy accessibility, by land and water, from Austin; its high elevation above the sea and the surrounding country; the extensive and beautiful views that may be had from its many high points, and the full view of the Colorado lake.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Much of this property has already been divided into blocks, lots, street, alleys, drives, walks, and parks and is now of record.

On Chautauqua hill, that seems to have been designed by nature for this purpose, there is in course of erection a pavillion that, in point of architectural beauty, adaptability to its purpose and seating capacity, cannot be equaled south of Mason and Dixon's line. On the brow of this hill overlooking the lake, one hundred and fifty feet above its surface, commanding a matchless view of it in either direction for several miles may now be seen a that cannot be duplicated on the continent. No description of it can give one even a tolerble conception of its superior excellence. It has to be seen to be appreciated.

Among the contemplated improvements in the near future is where Texas youths may receive such a character of training and instruction as will fit them for pursuing their studies further in college or university, or for entering upon the active duties of life. The site of this institution, known as is one of unsurpassed fitness andbeauty. It is an ideal place for "rearing the tender mind," for fashioning the plastic child into a model man. It is sufficiently near the city for religious and social purposes, and sufficiently far to escape moral and physical contamination.

It is a part of the contemplated plans to erect a large, commodious and on a site that seems by nature best adapted for this purpose. The object of this hotel will be to secure the patronage of those persons who seek refuge from the hot, malarial atmosphere of Southern Louisiana and Texas, in the summer season, and likewise to accommodate in the winter season, those who flee from the rigor of northern winters.

WATER.

The association will at once provide for an abundant supply of water. The fesibility of using electricity for pumping water has been satisfactorily demonstrated, and the power at the house at the dam will furnish electricity for this purpose.

It is a fact worthy of remark that the Chautauqua grounds are as near to the dam as Austin is. Hence all persons who may conclude to live permanently at the Chautauqua will have all the advantages of the city, with none of its disadvantages.

There will be three (possibly more) landings for every variety of river craft. The landings will be built with special reference to large boats.

An inclined railway will be constructed from one of the landings to the top of Chautauqua hill.

LIGHT.

The same wire that is to carry the electric fluid for pumping water in the day time, will be used at night for lighting the pavillion and private residences. The cost of this lighting will, in the opinion of Mayor McDonald, be much less than that made by kerosene and far more convenient.

TRANSPORTATION.

Captain Sheperd is now engaged in the construction of a big boat that will have a carrying capacity of 2000 people. This boat will make schedule trips and have a special landing place on the grounds of the Chautauqua asssociation. In addition to this, every character of craft will ply between Austin and Chautauqua and fully meet, at small cost, all possible demands of transportation

SAFEGUARDS.

All persons who may cast their lot with the Chautauqua are assured that every precaution will be taken to protect them in their lives, morals and manners. None but persons of unquestionable character will be admitted to its privileges. Wine, whisky, beer, and all other things that tend to lower the moral srandard, will be studiously excluded from the Chautauqua grounds. A special police force wil be on duty day and night to see that no one infringes the Chautauqua regulations.

AMUSEMENTS, RECREATION, ETC.

For the guests and patrons of Chautauqua the sources of amusement and recreation will be numerous, varied and of a high order. The lecture platform will be filled by the best talent that can be secured. Within the walls of the great pavillion the voices of the ablest lecturers in America will be heard. All questions and all shades of opinions will be represented. The Chautauqua is to be the people's great university, where all classes of men and women may come and drink deep and long draughts of knowledge. If one would hear the ablest and most modern and advanced thoughts on art, science, literature, history, religion, and economics, let him come to Chautauqua and he will hear them.

If one has fallen into a state of physical dilapidation and desires to recover most speedily his lost ground, he will find at Chautauqua all the physical appliances for building himself up anew. If one be fond of water he may swim, sail, row, or recline on the spacious deck of a palatial steamer. He may walk, or ride on horseback, or over long stretches of fine mountain roads, and at every step view a scenery that for softness, mellowness and beauty can not be surpassed. That rare combination of earth, sky and water from which the poet and painter draw their inspiration is to be seen here in the highest perfection.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

The situation of Chatauqua with reference to Austin, together with the nature, scope and variety of its exercises, renedrs it very necessary for a large number of people to remain permanently on the grounds during each season. The necessity of meeting the demands of this class of patronage is obvious. To this end a considerable part of the grounds have been divided into lots for camping purposes. These lots are being sold at reasonable prices and on very easy terms. The purchaser of a lot may buy a small tent or erect an inexpensive cottage on his lot and do his own cooking on a cheap scale, or, if he prefers, he may sleep in his tent or cottage and take his meals at a restaurant, which the Association will erect at some convenient place on its grounds; or, if he is financially able he may live in a sumptuous style at the hotel that will be erected for the accommodation of this class of patronage.

By these means one may live as inexpensively as he pleases at Chautauqua, and still live comfortably and enjoy all its advantages.
